morning's new away from dreams bows into the stream of days now the days are cold again days of now to days of then the saints of autumn march and sing and don their old familiar clothes those that wrapped me long ago lost and found in winters pocket i find coins and stubs and lockets a rocket ride to staled desire a stellar devoured maiden afire and still as midday waiting for nothing before the parade, assigned to nothing i believe in spring again i believe in days of then days of now are days of then find me st anthony and please bring a friend
